

Heavy rains caused considerable damage to the Minneota American Legion Building during a recent downpour.

Insurance adjusters evaluated the damage and the The Legion has been awarded $5,000 and got another $698 for the roof damage,” said American Legion Commander Jim Fink.

There also was some water damage upstairs and panels will have to be replaced. “The windows are all fine,” said Fink during Monday’s American Legion meeting.

The Legion members voted to commence with a renovation project on both the upper and lower levels. “This will take care of the inside, but now we have to eliminate the water from the outside,” said Fink.

The city engineer has been contacted for input on the outside project.
